Compliance Solutions for Broadcasters' FCC Public File Requirements

GUARD YOUR STATION AGAINST POTENTIALLY EXPENSIVE AND DAMAGING FCC PUBLIC FILE VIOLATIONS

We offer a comprehensive and inexpensive solution to the challenge of bringing and maintaining your mandatory public file into accordance with FCC regulations.

Let us manage your public file for you.

We can obtain many of the documents you need on your behalf, track the files you already have, and remind you about the forms you still need.

Federal Communications Compliance, LLC is an answer to the highest risk requirement you have when you have the least amount of time to spend on it.

THE RISK...

- Failing to file and retain all required current documentation in the public inspection file can result in monetary forfeitures starting at $10,000 per station per instance.
- The FCC has fined broadcasters millions of dollars over the last few years.
- Public File violations represent a considerable percentage of the Enforcement Bureau's total fines.
- The past two years saw no warning citations, only fines.
- Inspections, station sales, license renewals, transmitter and tower applications, and even groups or individuals with a grudge can trigger a public file review.

- This critical obligation demands attention when your time and resources are better allocated as focused on your core product.
